This post-war weatherboard home has been renovated and extended to perfection. A successful blend of old and new, it offers generous family accommodation with four bedrooms, (all with robes, two bathrooms, expansive living and dining room, second living/study area and central kitchen.

The owner's attention to detail is obvious from the moment you pass the front picket fence hiding a bed of iceberg roses and follow the red-brick path to the welcoming front verandah.

Inside, polished timber floors, ceiling roses, high ceilings, original fireplace and picture rails retain the character while the modern kitchen and bathrooms meet today's expectations.

Natural light fills every room while ducted air conditioning and solid fuel heating maintain the internal comfort levels.

The large kitchen shines with polished pine floors and
