This classic Californian bungalow is located on the city doorstep is a fine example of why the style is currently fashionable with it's flexible floor plan and characteristic details.

The solid brick construction is embellished with a roughcast exterior, wide eaves, broad front verandah with tapered masonry piers and stunning bow windows with art nouveau stained glass panels.

It features two big bedrooms plus a study, updated bathroom and large formal lounge with open fireplace off the wide entry hall. The adjoining dining room and remodelled kitchen have access to a rear sunroom overlooking the very private rear garden. The kitchen now includes gas cooking, walk-in pantry, ample storage and polished baltic pine floors.

The surrounding garden is complete with secure parking, garden shed and established trees including a stunning
