Number 87 Barkly Street ticks all the boxes - privacy, period charm and a prime position close to Bendigo's city centre.

Secluded behind a high fence and delightful gardens, the Circa 1928 Californian Bungalow home displays arts and crafts details with a twin-gabled facade featuring roughcast infills and exposed rafter ends.

The front porch held aloft by a tapered pier is a beautiful place to sit and survey the front garden where reclaimed brick-paved paths meander between beds of roses, shrubbery and hardy perennials.

The home retains charming original features like stunning freshly-polished Baltic pine floorboards, bay windows, high ceilings with ornate cornice, timber doors, and open
